Kitten Journey

From the first hint of kittens to the day they go home.

A calm, beautiful companion for first-time cat families — and a story every kitten takes with them.

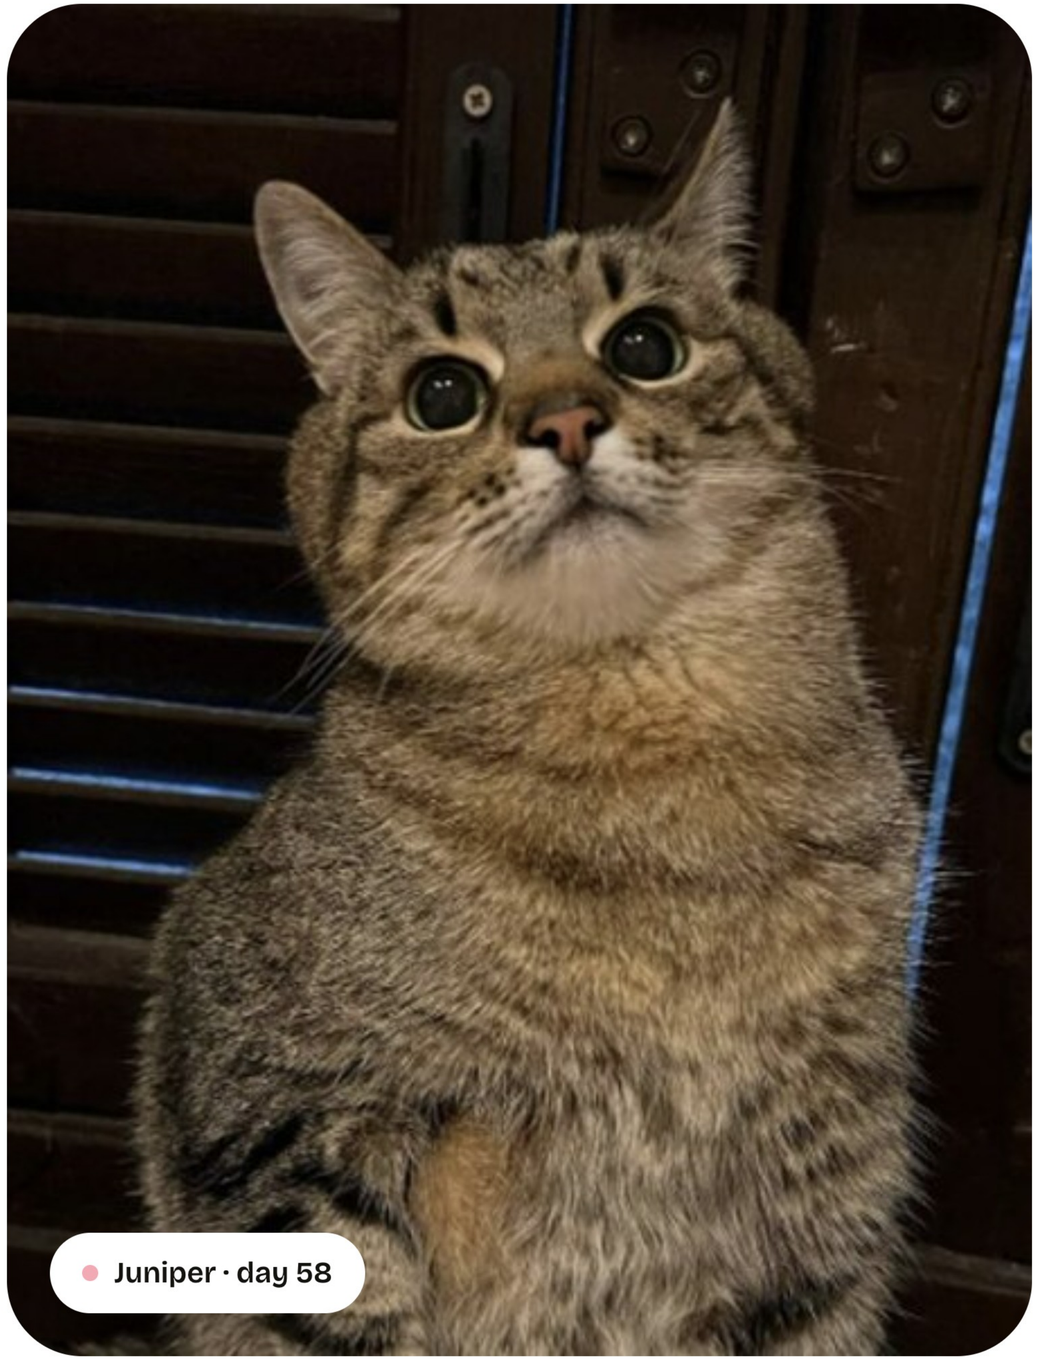

CONCEPT PREVIEW · 2026

01 — THE MOMENT

Your cat is having kittens. Now what?

Most people meet a litter once in their life. It's joyful, a little scary, and nobody hands you a guide.

- Notes scattered across phones, paper and group chats
- 3am googling "is this normal?"
- Breeder software built like a spreadsheet

02 — THE IDEA

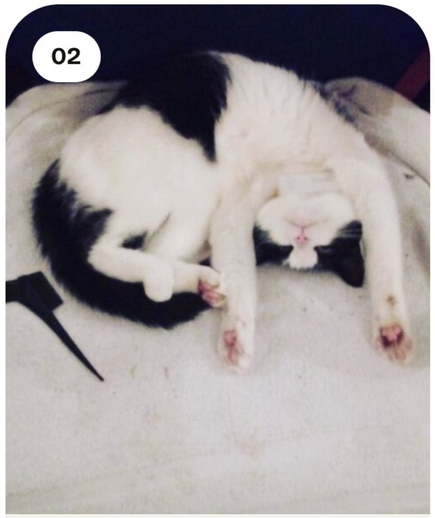

One calm companion. Five chapters.

Kitten Journey follows the litter as it grows. It shows what matters today and keeps everything else out of the way.

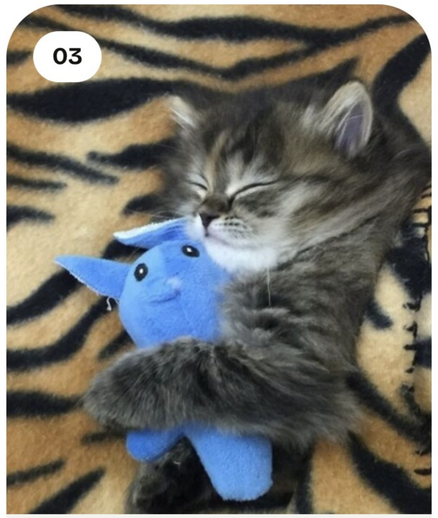

Expecting

Gentle week-by-week guidance and a two-tap daily check-in.

Birth

A calm flow for the big night, one kitten at a time.

Newborns

Daily weigh-ins, feeds and the tiny wins, tracked per kitten.

Growing

Personalities, firsts and vet visits, gathered into a journal.

New homes

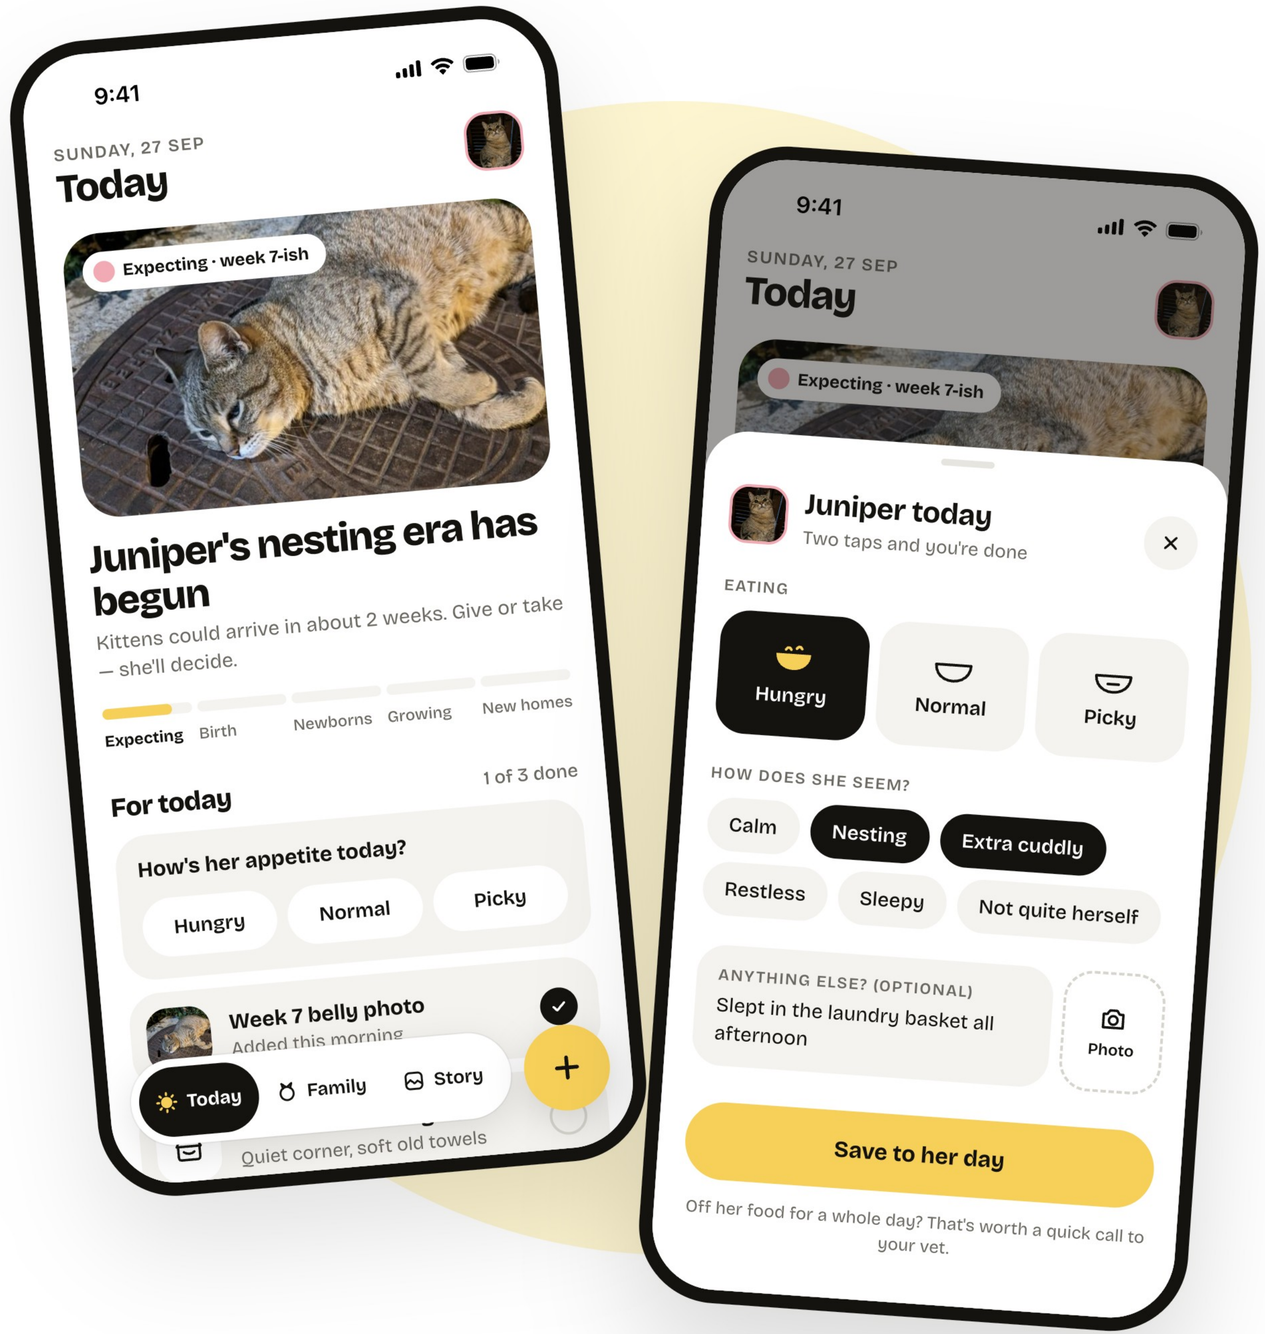

Each kitten leaves with its whole story, shared with one link.

CHAPTER 01 — EXPECTING

Two taps and you're done.

A daily check-in asks how she's eating and how she seems. That's it. The app turns it into a gentle picture of the weeks ahead.

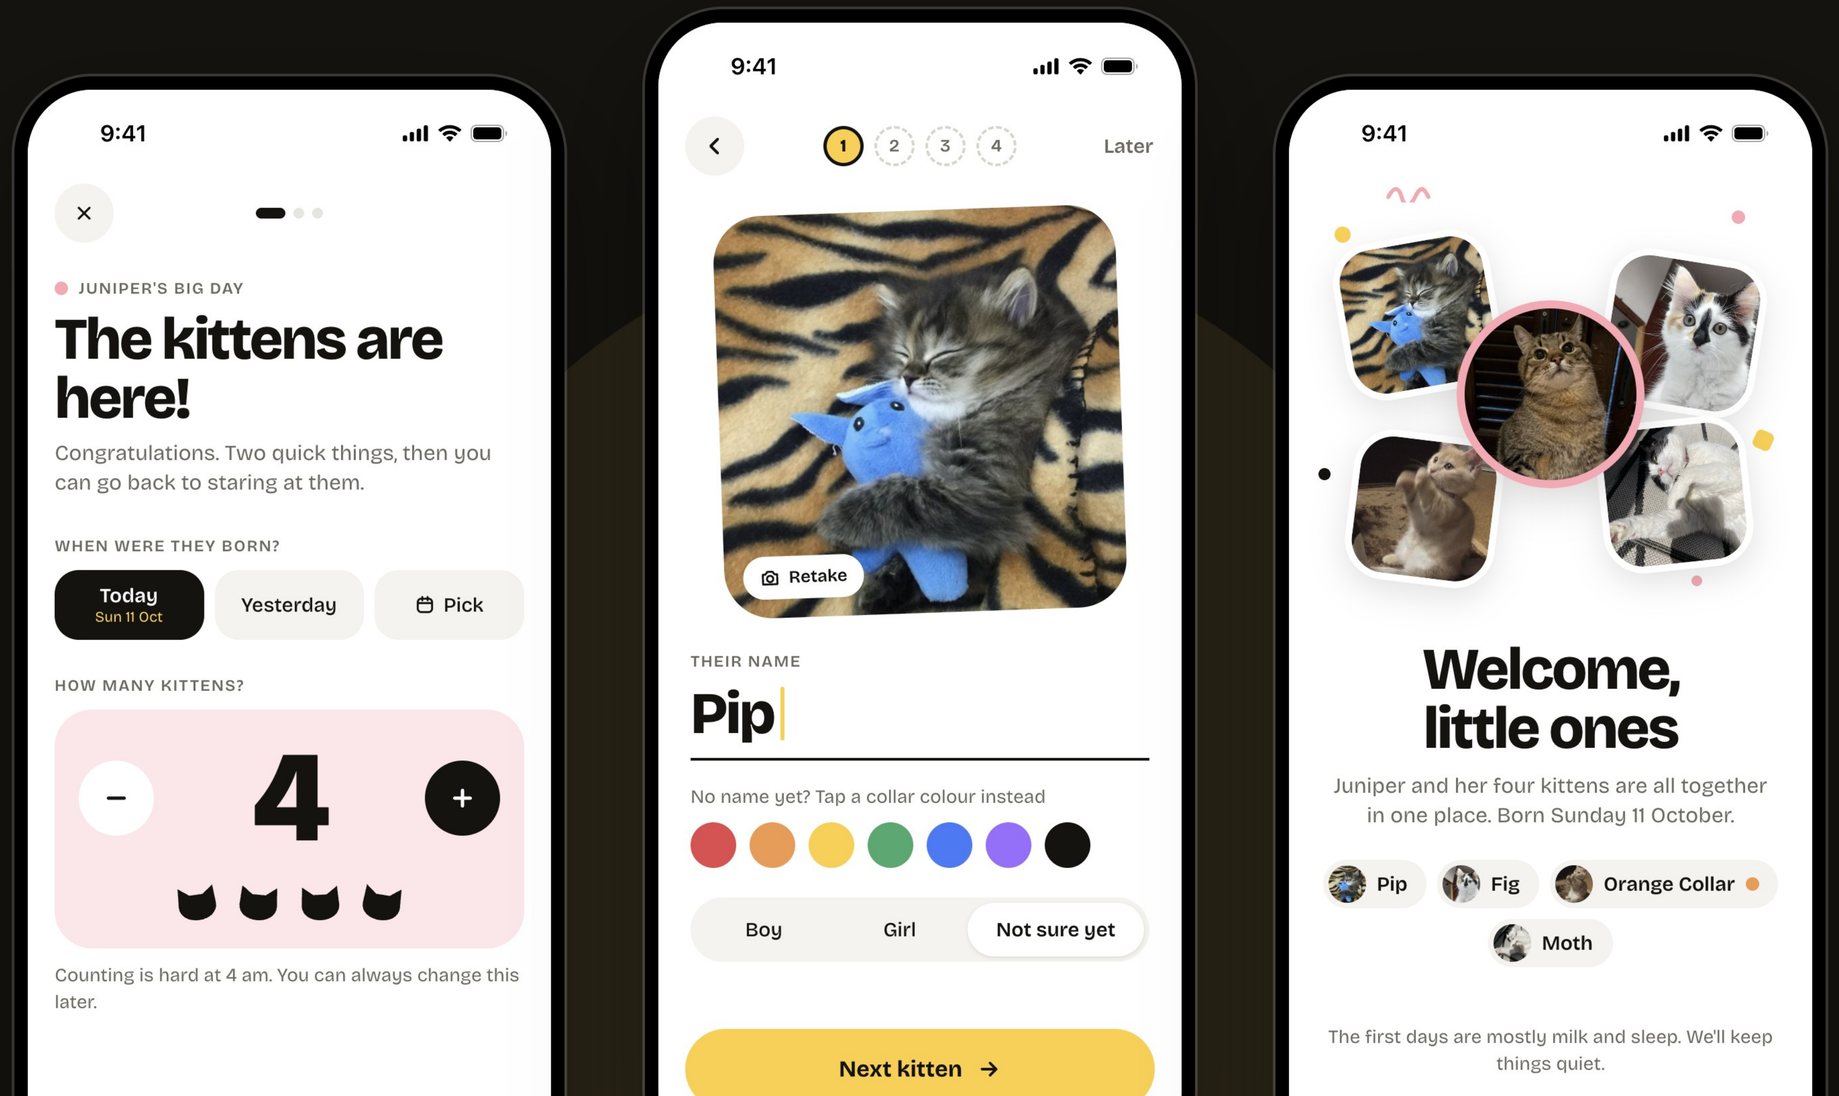

- A loose due window, tuned as she changes
- What to expect this week, in plain words
- A nesting checklist, ready before you need it

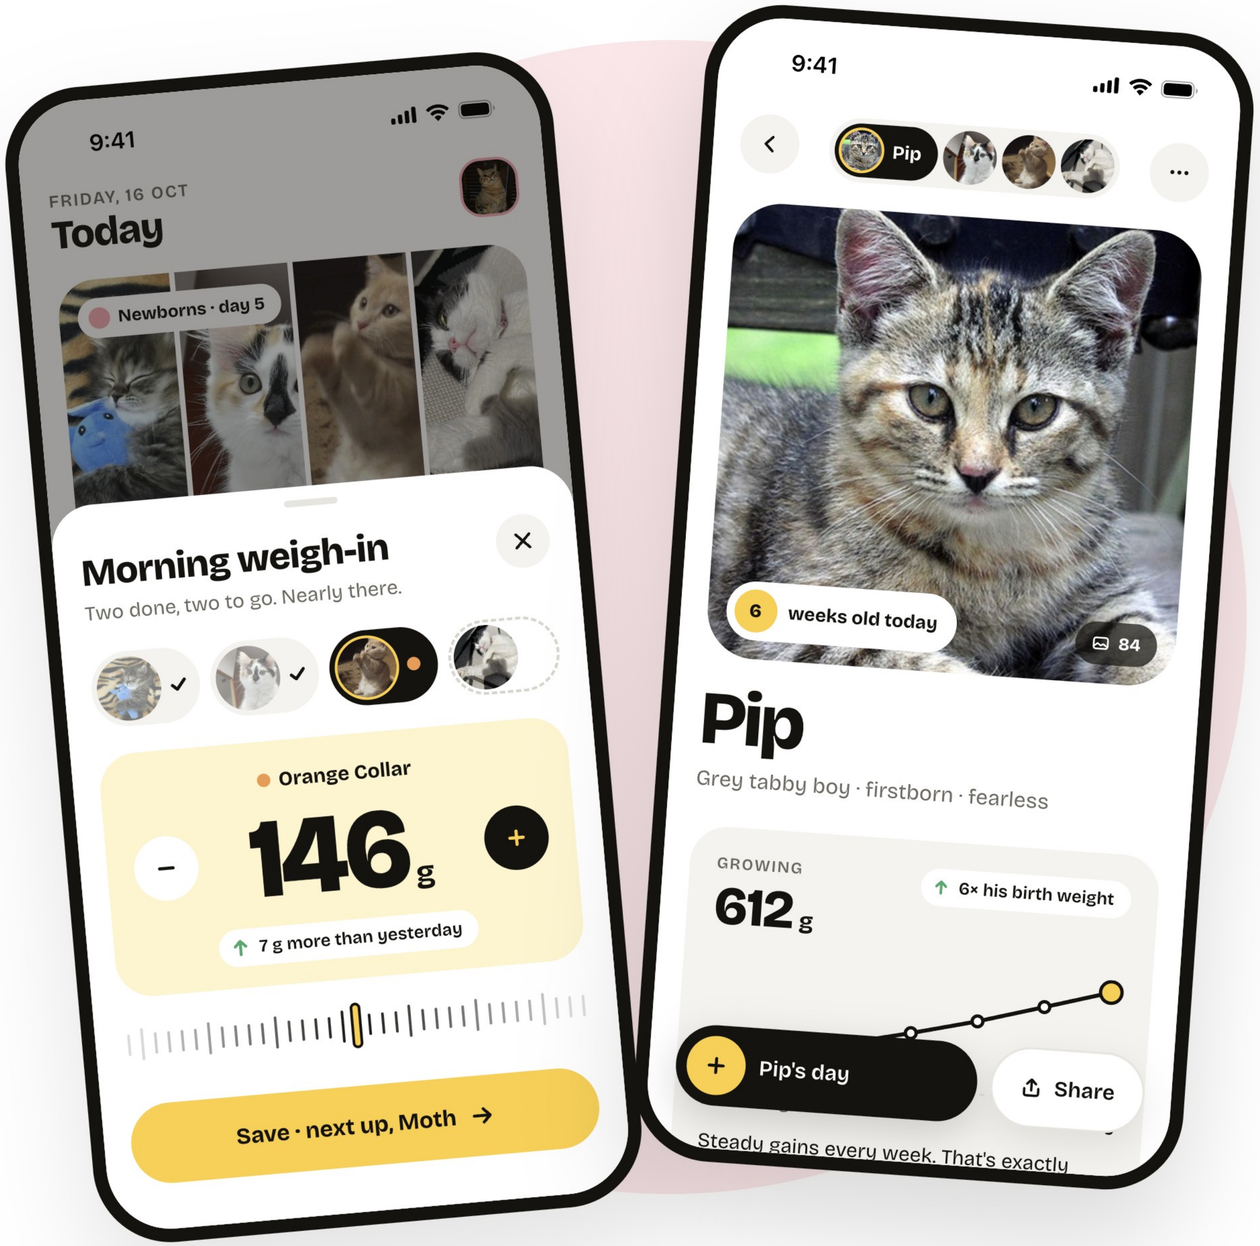

CHAPTER 02 — BIRTH

The big night, one kitten at a time.

Big buttons, zero typing, calm words. Log each arrival in seconds and give them a temporary name. The details can wait.

CHAPTERS 03 & 04 — NEWBORNS, GROWING

Every gram. Every first.

Weigh the whole litter in under a minute. Each kitten gets their own page, growing into a little biography.

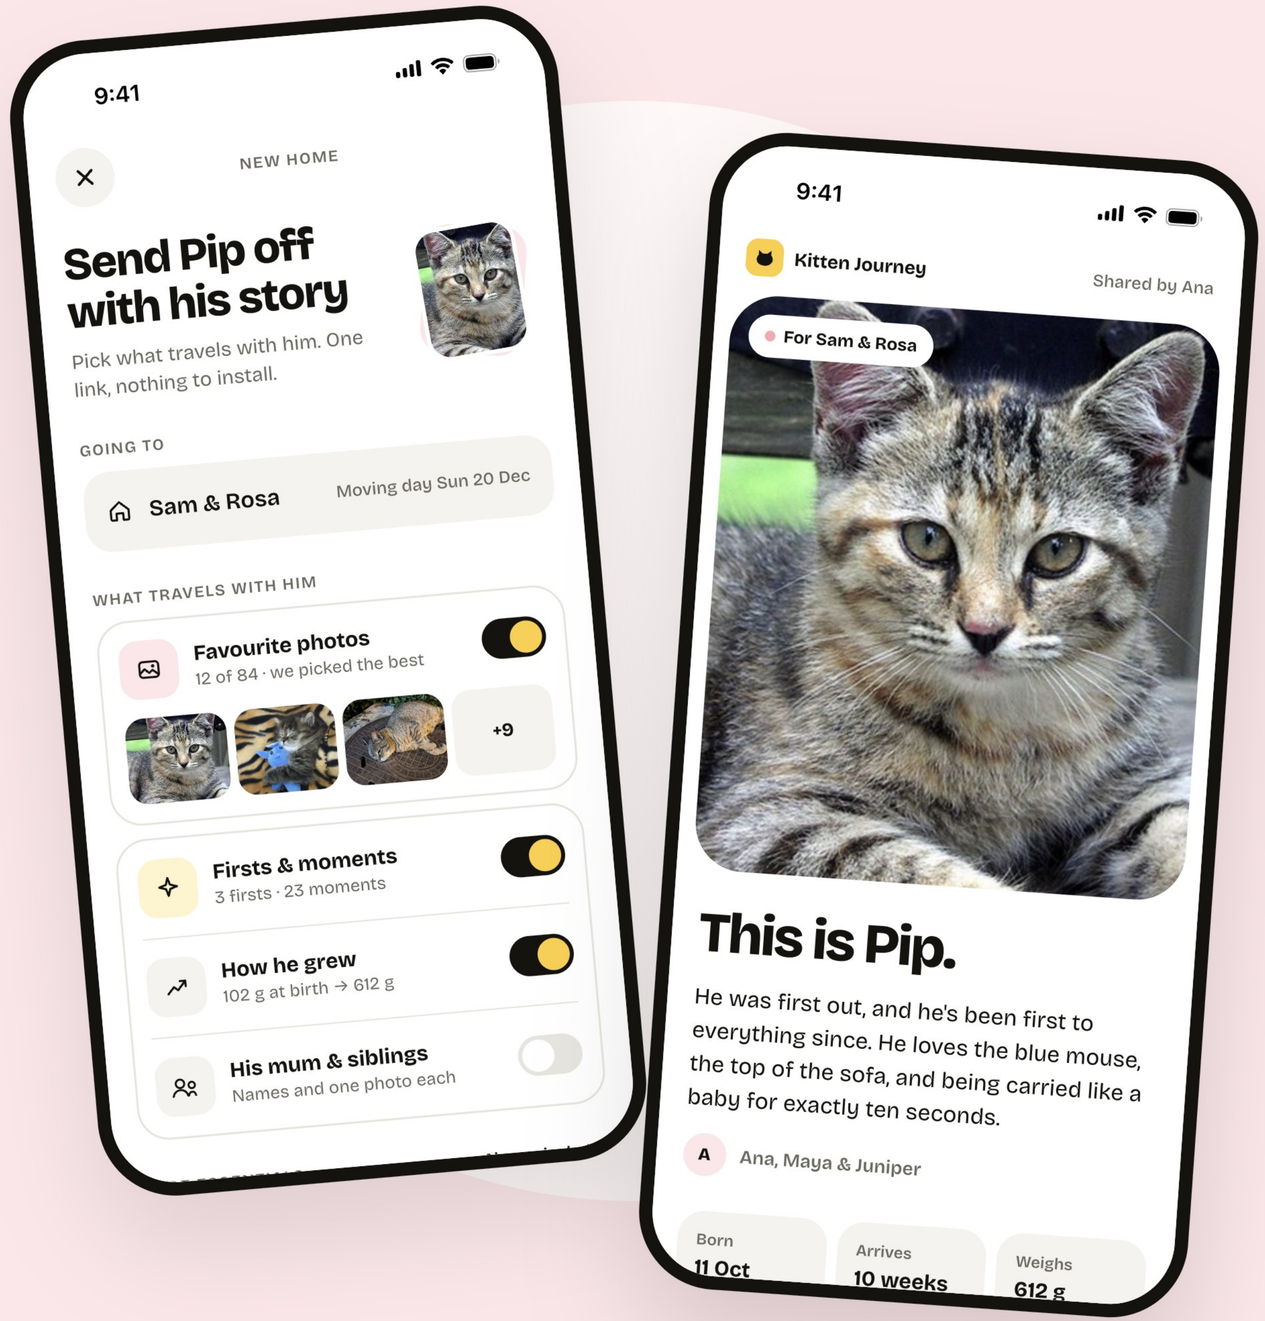

Growth you can read at a glance
"Steady gains every week. That's exactly what you want to see."

Firsts and moments, saved as they happen
Eyes open, wobbly first steps, the great sofa climb

Week-by-week guidance, never a lecture
Short notes on what's normal right now

Their story goes with them.

When a kitten leaves for their new family, you send one link. Photos, firsts, how they grew and the care notes they'll need. Nothing to install.

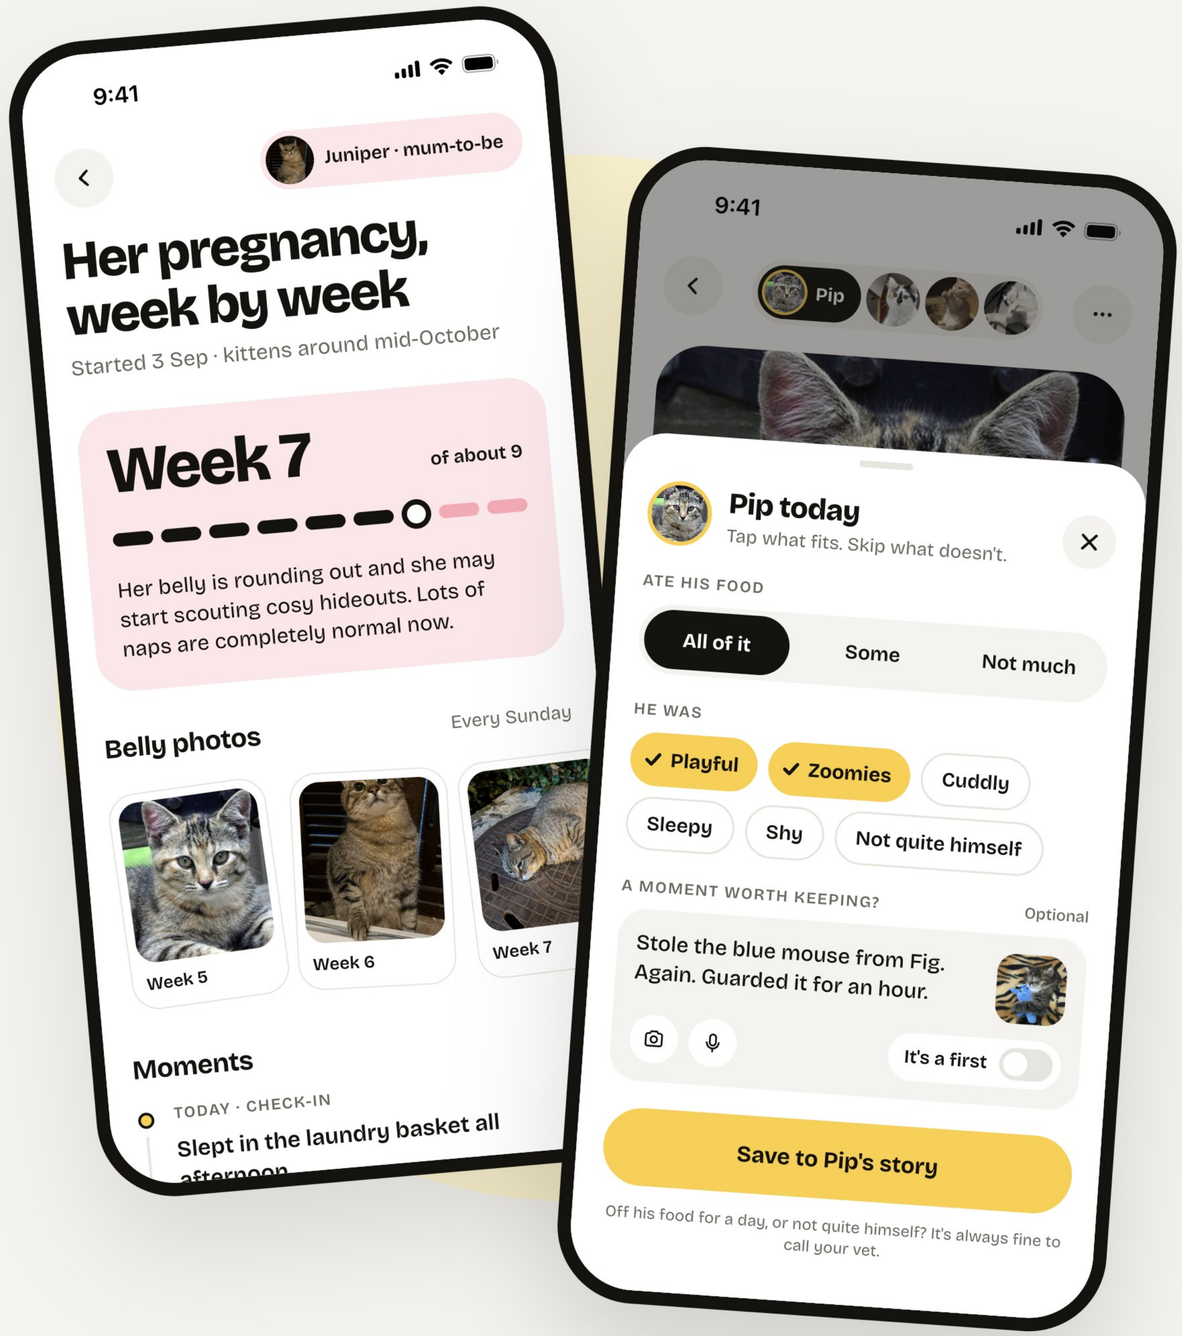

One link, opens anywhere
The new family doesn't need an account or an app

You choose what travels
Toggle photos, firsts and growth. The rest stays private.

A first week, already planned
Food, vet dates and their favourite toy, in one place

Calm by design.

You'll be tired, excited and often holding a kitten. Every screen is built for that.

1

Two taps, not twenty forms

Made for one hand, with a kitten in the other.

2

Warm, not clinical

Plain words and real photos. No jargon, no spreadsheets.

3

Everything is optional

"Not sure" is always a good answer. Skip it, come back later.

4

Knows when to step back

Gentle guidance, and a clear nudge to call your vet.

Kitten Journey

Would you use this?

This is an early concept. Honest reactions help more than kind ones — three quick questions:

1 Would you use it, if your cat was expecting?

Yes, I would | Maybe | Not for me

2 Which moment would you open it for most?

Pregnancy, birth night, raising, or sending them home

3 What's missing, or what would stop you?

Anything that feels confusing, unnecessary or worrying
